

How to Set a Pathway Response to Generate a Notification

When a patient responds to a pathway question, the response can generate an alert or a notification.

-  Yellow generates a medium level alert.
-  Red generates a high level alert.
-  Blue generates a notification.
-  Gray generates no alert or notification.

Content Administrators set the alert and notification levels of responses when they create a pathway, but the Care Team can make a change to the level on the patient's pathway, if needed.

To change a pathway response to generate a notification:

1. On the Patients page, click in the left section of the patient header.

2. On the Patient Profile page, click the Pathways tab.

3. In the Active Patient Pathways list, click (to highlight) the Pathway you want to change.

The pathway questions appear on the right side of the page.

4. Click Edit Pathway.

The questions appear on the left side of the page and are now editable.

5. To the right of the question, click the icon to toggle to the notification option .

6. Click Done.

If the patient chooses the response, a notification will be generated. The notifications that are generated can be viewed on the Monitoring page.
